[85] It is likely that this legislation has been superseded by more modern legislation and should be considered for repeal and revocation.

[86] The enabling provisions are Butter and Margarine Act 1907 (7 Edw. 7, c. 21), s. 7 and a number of Public Health and Local Government Acts. However, it is likely that this legislation has been superseded by more modern legislation and should be considered for repeal and revocation.

[87] The enabling provisions are Butter and Margarine Act 1907 (7 Edw. 7, c. 21), s. 7 (Regulations as to preservatives) and Health Act 1947 (28/1947), ss. 5 (Regulations) and 54 (Regulations for prevention of danger from food and drink). Section 7 of the 1907 Act and s. 5 of the 1947 remain in force; s. 54 has been substituted twice: firstly by S. I. No. 333 of 1991 and then by Irish Medicines Board (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 2006 (3/2006), s. 25. The latter contains a saver in subs. (6) for regulations made under the repealed section; the former does not. In view of the other enabling provisions, this should not affect the validity of regulations made under s. 54 before 31 December 1991, the date of the first substitution. However, it is likely that this legislation has been superseded by more modern legislation and should be considered for repeal and revocation.

[91] The enabling provision for these regulations is Agricultural Produce (Fresh Meat) Act 1930 (10/1930), s. 51 and schedule, the schedule as substituted by Agricultural Produce (Meat) (Miscellaneous Provisions Act 1978 (13/1978), s. 6 and schedule. Section 51 is the general regulation making power and it remains in force. However it is the schedule that deals with fees, and it was repealed by European Communities (Fees For Health Inspections and Controls of Fresh Meat) Regulations 1995 (S.I. No. 34 of 1995), reg. 14(1) which set up a new fee structure. The statutory power for these regulations appears to be removed and they appear to be obsolete.
