(b) The Minister may make an order under this subsection where he or she is satisfied that—

and

(ii) the arrangements for such transfer are adequate.

(c) Every order under this subsection shall be laid before each House of the Oireachtas as soon as may be after it is made and, if a resolution annulling the order is passed by either such House within the next 21 days on which that House sits after the order has been laid before it, the order shall be annulled accordingly, but without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done thereunder.

(3) The Director (or an officer of the National Archives designated for this purpose by the Director) may certify that F8[particular relevant records, or a particular class or classes of relevant records, which are specified] in the certificate do not warrant transfer to the National Archives for preservation, and any records so certified shall be retained in the appropriate Department or (as the case may be) returned to that Department, where they may be retained, or disposed of subject to the granting of an authorisation under section 7(4)(a) by an officer of that Department authorised for the purpose of that section.

(6) F8[Relevant records] retained under subsection (5) shall be reviewed by an officer of the Department of State concerned authorised for that purpose at least once in every subsequent period of five years with a view to their possible transfer to the National Archives under subsection (1).

(7) Nothing in this section shall prevent the transfer to the National Archives, with the agreement of the Director, of F8[Departmental records which are not relevant records] where such transfer is desirable to ensure the proper preservation of such records or for other administrative reasons, but any records so transferred shall not be made available for public inspection except in accordance with this Act.

(8) The Taoiseach may, with the agreement of the Director, direct that the transfer to the National Archives under this section of F8[any class of Departmental records, other than a class of Departmental records referred to in section 2A(1)(b) or 2A(2) (each inserted by section 3 of the National Archives (Amendment) Act 2018),] be not proceeded with until he is satisfied that arrangements for such transfer are adequate.

(11) The Taoiseach may by order prescribe a particular class or classes of records in relation to which a certificate granted under subsection (2) or (4) may relate, and may by order amend or revoke an order under this subsection.
